

Fall 2020 at the University of Iowa, in pictures

Though 2020 has come with a host of changes and challenges, the University of Iowa campus remains as beautiful as ever in the fall. Check out this fall photo gallery, including on-the-ground and aerial photography of favorite campus locales, autumn foliage, fiery sunrise and sunset—and a few shots of the recent unseasonable snowfall.

See the gallery →

Peek-Asa elected to the National Academy of Medicine

Corinne Peek-Asa, associate dean for research and professor of occupational and environmental health in the University of Iowa College of Public Health, has been elected to the National Academy of Medicine. Find out more on Iowa Now.

Tippie dean finalists to participate in virtual campus visits, open forums

The University of Iowa search committee for the new dean of the Tippie College of Business has selected three final candidates. The candidates will participate in virtual visits over the next two weeks to participate in public forums and meet with faculty, staff, students, and leadership at Tippie. Read more on Iowa Now.

DDEI provides support and resources for 2020 election season

The Division of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DDEI) encourages members of the Hawkeye community to stay informed, to vote, and to practice respect throughout the 2020 election season. All Hawkeyes, no matter for whom we voted and what we believe, should show the character and integrity to respect all views, opinions, and feelings. Find resources and information about the Nov. 3 election on the DDEI website.

5 questions about Election Day 2020

Two weeks before the Nov. 3 election, University of Iowa politics expert Cary Covington shares his thoughts on the 2020 presidential race, including how the COVID-19 pandemic will factor in. Visit Iowa Magazine to learn more.

Applications for UI's P3 grant program coming this fall

Though the COVID-19 pandemic has delayed the grant process for distributing funds generated by the University of Iowa's utility public private partnership (P3), the group established to manage the fund is ready to return to the process and soon will announce how members of campus can apply. Learn more on Iowa Now.

Reminder: UI revises COVID-19 face covering policy

The University of Iowa is revising its COVID-19 policies to align with updated guidance from the Iowa Department of Public Health and the CDC. Effective Friday, Oct. 23, 2020, the university will no longer allow gaiters or face shields (when worn without a mask) as appropriate face coverings. Appropriate face coverings now include a cloth mask or disposable mask. Read more on the UI Coronavirus website.

UI explores remote control of blood sugar

University of Iowa researchers' unexpected and surprising discovery may have major implications in diabetes care, particularly for patients who find current treatment regimens cumbersome. Find out more on the Iowa Stories website.

The Milky Way is a bit curdled

Astronomers at the University of Iowa have determined our galaxy is surrounded by a clumpy halo of hot gases that is continually being supplied with material ejected by birthing or dying stars. The halo also may be where matter unaccounted for since the birth of the universe may reside. Visit Iowa Now to learn more.

Resources, information available for international research

If you're involved in research on campus, the Office of the Vice President for Research (OVPR) offers information about new federal regulations and disclosure requirements related to foreign influence in research, as well as resources for those involved in international research. Find this information on the OVPR website.

View your ePersonnel file at any time

University employees have the right to access their personnel file. Electronic personnel files are always available through Employee Self Service, though some documents may only be available in hard copy. Hard copy personnel files are available by request from your local HR representative. Please see the University Human Resources website for more information.

Ask an expert: How to talk to kids about race

University of Iowa College of Education professors offer suggestions for how to educate children about racism and anti-racism. Read the full story on Iowa Magazine.

IOWA

News and updates for faculty and staff

Forward this message | Nondiscrimination Statement