SUPERVISOR FILES
	Documents that will aid your memory on issues of importance, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Supervisor notes on pre-discipline discussions (coaching/counseling) • Meeting notes and email correspondence • Separate files retained for investigations and grievances 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Personal reflections/opinions. Documentation should be based on facts and observations. • 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Management notes are not considered part of the personnel file and employees generally do not have access to this information even if it relates directly to them. • Remember, supervisor files are not confidential in litigation or even the UI internal complaint process. • The employee's union representative is often given access to the management notes in the context of a grievance and with the employee's written consent. • Management notes are proper subjects of subpoenas, discovery in litigation, and internal investigations (EOD matters). There is no confidentiality provision for such notes. • Public Records: Management notes are subject to the same confidentiality protections as the personnel file, i.e., they are confidential if they contain "personal information" and relate to a personnel matter. • It can be hard for employees (or their lawyers) to understand that these notes are confidential personnel records for public records purposes, but are not part of the personnel file to which the employee has access under Iowa Code 91B. Employees are not entitled to see every document in the University's possession that somehow relates to them.

ACADEMIC FILES AND FERPA GUIDELINES FOR STUDENT EMPLOYEES

FOLDER TYPE	DOCUMENTS PERMITTED	DOCUMENTS NOT PERMITTED	ACCESS	RETENTION
ACADEMIC FILES
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Grades Class schedules Other academic information relating to the student 		Virtually all academic records are “education records” within the meaning of FERPA and as such, each student is entitled to review (not copy) their academic file. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Access to education records, including the academic file, by UI faculty and staff is limited to circumstances where the information is needed to carry out their professional responsibilities. Public Records: FERPA-covered education records are not subject to disclosure under Iowa Public Records law.	The current records retention for academic records is at each Collegiate or Other Units levels and may be found at http://fmb.fo.uiowa.edu/prior-departmental-records-retention. Please Note: the UI official records retention schedules posted at the above link were updated prior to 2015 and are currently under revision. Updates will be posted periodically.
FERPA
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> “Education record” is broadly defined: all records that (1) directly relate to a student, and (2) are maintained by the institution. 	Education records do not include “sole possession records,” records that are (1) kept in the sole possession of their maker, and (2) used only as a personal memory aid. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> These records are typically personal notes of conversations or events, similar to management notes above. Once such records are shared, they become education records and the student is entitled to see them. If sole possession records are maintained in the department’s general academic file, for that student, they become regular education records. 	FERPA covered records are not subject to disclosure under Iowa Public Records law.
