
Working At Iowa Survey

University Report

November 2022

Introduction

The Working at Iowa (WAI) survey supports productivity and retention of University faculty and staff. Survey responses provide an understanding of the strengths of your work culture and identify opportunities to support your organizational mission and strategic goals. UI Health Care participated in Working at Iowa powered by Press Ganey, an engagement survey that allows benchmarking with similar institutions while also providing responses to ten (10) WAI questions for trending purposes.

Engagement Index

Included in this report is a measure of engagement, provided by Dr. Eean Crawford, a faculty member in the Tippie College of Business. Engagement behaviors show how personally connected people are to their jobs in terms of giving their full effort, paying close attention to their work, and emotionally caring about what they do.

Survey Respondents and Participation Rates

Survey respondents are summarized by employee category and percent participation of the eligible population. All response information is reported as percentages to protect the confidentiality of respondents. Similarly, where there are fewer than ten (10) responses in any report category, no data is provided to protect the confidentiality of respondents.

Survey Results

The Trended Comparison section of this report displays the 2022 UI results with those from 2018 and 2020, but for consistent data comparison, results from UI Health Care are excluded. Color and shading illustrate the difference in survey responses across the six options (strongly agree, agree, slightly agree, slightly disagree, disagree, and strongly disagree). The survey data are a snapshot taken at a point in time. In comparison to past years, it does not represent the change within a constant cohort of respondents.

Resources

The Senior Human Resource Leader in your organization is available to support the communication and use of survey results, drawing upon the support of University Human Resources as needed. Just-in-time resources and contact information are available on the Working at Iowa Survey website: <https://hr.uiowa.edu/administrative-services/working-iowa>.

Acknowledgements

University Human Resources wishes to acknowledge the essential contributions to this report by Dr. Eean R. Crawford of the Tippie College of Business and the leadership of Dr. Jacob J. Oleson and the work of Jacob Clark of the Center for Public Health Statistics in the College of Public Health. Their contributions to the design and production of the 2022 survey reports have been extremely valuable to the success of the Working at Iowa initiative.

Engagement Score Result

Engagement behaviors show how personally connected people are to their jobs in terms of giving their full effort, paying close attention to their work, and emotionally caring about what they do.¹ The Working at Iowa (WAI) Survey supports the engagement and productivity of University faculty and staff. To measure engagement, a validated scale² was used that asks how much an individual focuses their physical, mental, and emotional energy at work according to these WAI statements:

Physical Engagement	Mental Engagement	Emotional Engagement
I work with high energy.	I give my full attention to my job.	I put my emotions into what I do.
I exert my full effort.	I concentrate completely.	I am emotionally connected.
I devote a lot of my energy.	My mind is focused on the work that I do.	I put my feelings into my work.

The charts below display average engagement scores based upon these survey items.

Engagement Strengths and Areas for Improvement

How strong is the relationship of Engagement and Working at Iowa perceptions? The first graph displays how Working at Iowa statements, taken as a whole, correlated with the engagement score for the University of Iowa. The correlation indicates how efforts to improve Working at Iowa might be associated with improved engagement. How strong are these correlations? A benchmark study ³ found that measures of attitudes and behavior are strongly related at approximately 0.30, moderately related at approximately 0.20, and weakly related at approximately 0.10.

For what specific WAI statements might you take action? The second graph displays three areas of strength and three areas for improvement for the UI. Recognize that efforts to maintain or improve a specific area might be important to UI for reasons other than engagement.

- Bar Plot - displays percent of respondents who agreed (Slightly Agree, Agree, Strongly Agree) with that statement.

Top Three Areas of Strength in UI

Q1: I know my work expectations

Top Three Areas for Improvement in UI

Q9: My unit distributes workloads fairly

Q18: UI recognizes accomplishments of faculty/staff

Q20: Promotion opportunities at UI

Technical Notes

1. Each of the bar charts display the percentages of responses at each level of the Likert scale and are color-coded as follows:
 - (a) Strongly Disagree - Dark Red (Burgundy)
 - (b) Disagree - Red
 - (c) Slightly Disagree - Pink
 - (d) Slightly Agree - Pale Green
 - (e) Agree - Green
 - (f) Strongly Agree - Dark Green
2. Each survey item must have ten (10) respondents for percentage data to be displayed. Survey items with fewer than ten respondents do not have data displayed, but those respondents are included in reports for larger units of which they are members.
3. Job category is based upon primary, regular appointments and grouped as faculty (all appointment types), Professional and Scientific, and Merit staff (including those represented by AFSCME, as well as supervisory and confidential staff).
4. Age categories with less than 10 respondents are combined with nearby categories until all categories displayed have 10 or more.
5. The colors for the Job Classification by Year - Percent Agrees Trended Comparisons tables were chosen based on past results. The proportion of Agrees (Strongly Agree, Agree, Slightly Agree) were calculated for all 20 survey items across all ORGs at the University. Tertiles (i.e., lower third, middle third, and upper third) were calculated within this distribution of Percent Agrees to help create regions that could be interpreted as upper third, middle third, and lower third. These tertiles corresponded to proportions near 80% and 90%. For the tables, any percent agree less than 80% were shaded in red tones (lower third), any percent agrees between 80% and 90% were shaded in yellow tones (middle third), and any percent agrees greater than 90% were shaded in green tones (upper third).
6. A second-order Structural Equation Model (SEM) was used to obtain the correlation estimate between an overall composite of the Working at Iowa survey questions and an overall composite of the Engagement survey questions. The validity of an overall composite for both Working at Iowa and Engagement survey questions was established separately using Confirmatory Factor Analysis (CFA). Details of this analysis are available upon request.
7. UI Health Care did not participate in the 2020 and 2022 WAI surveys. Hence, the population total reported in WAI for UI these years are lower than in previous years. To properly compare 2018 to 2020 and 2022 results, 2018 UI Health Care data has been removed before generating statistics and graphics.
8. The PS job category includes respondents in non-UI Health Care, SEIU-covered roles.
9. The Merit category includes both Merit and MSE (Merit Supervisor Exempt) respondents.
